Principal's Corner—Eva Almonte

Hawks, I hope you doing well and had a wonderful Thanksgiving break. We are in our last part of the 2nd quarter and half way through the year. We have not heard any news about going Hybrid in January, I will update you and keep you posted as soon as we hear anything.

Winter is now here and the weather is beginning to change. I understand how hard it is to wake up early, brush your teeth, wash your face and get ready for your zooms, But it is more important than ever to persevere and continue with your routines. Go to bed early, sleep your 8 hours, eat a healthy breakfast, and be ready to learn and show your academic success to yourself, parents and teachers.

I have a special gift for all of your hard work. I will send a coupon to Whataburger free meal in the December mailing. Please enjoy, you deserve a free treat for all your hard work.

I have recorded some book reading for you to enjoy. Please feel free to watch them off your teacher web page and join in with me in doing some fun science activities. I hope you have fun.

Our first semester is almost over, with that said, please make sure that you have reached out to your child's teacher and touched base on homework and class work that is due. Thank you for supporting your children and our teachers. If you are finding yourself in need of some social emotional help, please reach out to our staff and teachers for some ideas.

Please consider giving Hudlow "Extra Credit" by assigning your tax credit dollars to Hudlow Elementary School. With your help, we can continue offering Music and Art to all Hudlow's students! We appreciate your support! $200 for single filers, and $400 for married filing joint!

NO SCHOOL: Friday, December 18th - Teacher Grading Day
